

Feeling prepared to take on a TEDxAstonUniversity talk? Excellent! Before applying, kindly take a moment to review the flowchart. Best of luck!

TEDxAstonUniversity is all about spreading ideas, as Ideas Change Everything. Join us as we explore the journey of individual actions to global change through "The Ripple Effect", envisioning an inclusive, entrepreneurial, and transformative future.

While you may have a talk prepared, it's probably not the ideal fit for a TEDxAstonUniversity event.

Is your idea promoting your business?

Is your idea related to something political?

Do you have credible evidence to back up your idea?

Do you have compelling, real life stories to illustrate your idea?

Are you ready to commit to the TEDxAstonUniversity coaching process?

If chosen to present at TEDxAstonUniversity, you will be assigned a dedicated speaker coach who will guide you from the selection process through to the event day. The coach will assist you in refining your idea, crafting and rehearsing your speech, and delivering it with the distinctive presence and gravitas expected at TEDxAstonUniversity. The coaching involves one-hour sessions tailored to your schedule, alongside approximately four team meetings from June to September. Whether you are an experienced speaker or new to the stage, speaking at TEDxAstonUniversity offers a unique experience. You will need to develop a new talk specifically for this event, as reusing previous speeches is not permitted. Our coaches, with their extensive experience, will help you develop a compelling and original presentation that embodies TEDxAstonUniversity's ethos of "Ideas Change Everything".

You should definitely apply to speak at TEDxAstonUniversity event. You can find the application form here: www.tedxastonuniversity.com

Congratulations on reaching this stage! If you're considering a TEDxAstonUniversity talk but have doubts about your availability or commitment for our coaching process, we recommend refraining from applying at this time. If you're uncertain and would like to discuss further, please don't hesitate to reach out to the team at speakers@tedxastonuniversity.com
